IP Strategy

In 2016, IP DOME was given a grant by the UK IP Office to draft a toolkit for use by SMEs, that would help them deploy their IP safely and profitably in India. A link to the IP Smart Toolkit can be found here.

Suitably updated, the Toolkit still remains a basic document from where a company can begin exploring the various options and strategies open to them, when they wish to deploy their IP in India, or in any other country of South Asia, or South-East Asia. We trust your knowledge of your invention; and our knowledge of the market!

Contracts and Licensing

The full value of your IP can only be leveraged through valuable collaborations and licensing agreements that the protection of your monopoly enables.

At IP DOME, we support licensing and commercialisation of your IP by ensuring that your IP is safe from theft, unauthorised usage and unintended risks both within your enterprise, and when you are discussing your IP with potential commercial partners. Our contract and licensing services include training, regular support and updates.

IP Filing and Protection

Protection of IP in the emerging markets involves a well-crafted long-term strategy! We file and prosecute patents, copyrights, trademarks, design and GI applications in 149 countries.

Make use of our portfolio-specific valuation-engineered prosecution and monitoring services. We guide litigation outcomes from the inside and provide analytics to support your case. All this means that when we work with you, we ensure that you have the freedom to nurture your business, and direct it towards growth with confidence!

Global Advisory

The value of your Intellectual Property depends on the strategic geographical positioning of your patent family and the structure of your Trademark family.

International filing, in addition to protecting your IP in your target markets, also helps in broadening the scope of your patent, and enhancing the value of your portfolio. For start-ups, IP value increases the possibility of publicity and of funding. At IP DOME, bring our expertise to support your global goals.

R&D Support

The IP DOME pipeline is a platform for your R&D team. The platform alerts the team to requirements of prior art search, monitoring and contractual obligations.

The pipeline also provides input towards commercialisation, such as, vendor management, employee confidentiality and non-disclosure, discussions with consultants, sharing of IP and payment of royalties. IP DOME also recommends service providers for non-IP processes, such as regulatory clearances and certifications. Such providers also work closely with IP DOME analysts providing you with a seamless experience.

Decision Support

Data-driven analytical support to decision making ensures that your business benefits from consistency and continual growth, structured to leverage the market trend.

IP DOME analysts and strategists are trained in studying trends, using business intelligence and online data repositories, to provide you with actionable data and information. With considerable niche experience in the field, we have created tools to extract insights from quantitative and qualitative data, that provides just enough data for you and your directors to make an informed decision on issues such as foreign filing, collaborations and licensing.
